WHY FRANCHISEES CHOOSE CHEESY BITES

No chef or extra staff needed

Staff are hard to find these days. Our frozen products are ready to fry, so you can cook and sell them yourself in about 3 minutes.

Less waste, steadier costs

Raw material prices change every day. Making snacks from scratch means waste and risk. We supply ready products, so you buy only what you sell.

A brand people already know

Customers already know and love our corndogs, long potato and chicken popcorn, so you start with a proven, fast-selling menu.

Support at every step

From setting up your shop to daily operations, product supply, training and sales promotion, we work with you side by side.

Fits any space

Run it as a kiosk, a mall counter or a full shopfront. You choose the format that fits your location and budget.

Easy income

Quick to cook, quick to sell. It's a simple, low-stress way to earn from a food business without years of experience.

WHAT OUR PARTNERS SAY

“Since opening, we haven't had a single complaint, and we're one of the top stock buyers. Once the economy recovers, it will only get better.

📍 Meiktila · Franchise outlet

“Within months of opening we were one of the top stock buyers. For 3-4 months the roads were closed and transport cost 2-3 times more, but our customers kept supporting us. We're still selling well, even in tough times.
